

RICHARD LUEVANO
... Airman of Month

Torrance Man AC&W Squad Top Airman

A2c Richard Luevano won out over four other top-notch airmen to earn the title of Airman of the Month for July at the 738th AC&W Squadron. He was nominated for the award because of the high quality of his work, his outstanding appearance and his military bearing.

Airman Luevano, whose home is Torrance, spent two years in the National Guard before entering the regular Air Force. He attended Los Angeles Harbor Junior College for two years, and completed the radio maintenance course at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Although undecided as to whether to make a career of the Air Force, he intends to continue his education and will take up the study of advanced mathematics.
